User Manual

Freewell 62 mm Base Ring with Shield for Real Locking VND

Description

The Freewell 62 mm base ring is an essential component of the Real Locking VND/CPL system, which allows for secure and quick mounting of filters on the lens. Made from precisely machined aluminum, it provides a solid attachment and compatibility with other system components – from VND filters to adapters. The 62 mm model fits lenses with the same thread size and allows for system expansion to smaller diameters.
