User Manual

Designed for selfies and live recording, the Puluz tripod is extremely lightweight and compact while providing sturdiness and durability. It supports 360-degree panoramic photos and 90-degree vertical shots. Thanks to the detachable quick-release plate, you can quickly and conveniently attach it to your camera or camcorder, and the adjustable central column will help you achieve the desired height while photographing or filming.

Sturdy construction

The tripod is made of aluminum alloy, making it exceptionally lightweight and compact, which is perfect for travel and will not be a heavy burden during excursions. The set includes a bag that facilitates transport. Its construction is solid and durable, thanks to the 3 sections of aluminum legs with quick-release locks and non-slip rubber feet — which ensure your photos are sharp and clear regardless of the conditions. For even greater stability, use the spring hook to suspend heavy objects (up to 3 kg) and provide even more security for your equipment.
